It is written in such a delightful, homey, and readable style. Indeed the truths taught have been lived out for many years. I have been so blessed to know Jean for twenty-eight years and have watched her grow in the likeness of Jesus and blossom into one of the most effective Bible study teachers I have ever heard.

Jean's lifelong quest to not only be a godly woman but also a godly mother and her insatiable hunger to study's God's Word has uniquely equipped her to give hope and encouragement to the modern mother. Her love for God's Word is contagious and will inspire all who read Mirror, Mirror on the Wall to make the study of God's Word a priority in their lives, so that by the transforming power of His Word they, too, will be able to examine their hearts and see "the family resemblance to Jesus Christ."
